Privacy Policy Statement

Your privacy and the security of your information are very important to us. We are committed to ensuring, maintaining, and protecting the confidentiality of your personal information at all times.

All content and information on this website is copyrighted by Highland View Academy. By using this site, you acknowledge that Highland View Academy owns all intellectual property rights in and to the site and its contents, and that these rights are valid and protected in all forms, media, and technologies.

You may not modify, remove, delete, augment, add to, exploit, publish, transmit, participate in the transfer or sale of, or create derivative works from the content, in whole or in part, without explicit permission.

We may use "cookies" on this site. Cookies are small text files that contain pieces of information a website transfers to an individual's computer hard drive. They are used for record-keeping purposes and help us tailor our website to the interests and needs of our visitors. Cookies may also be used to enhance session security. We do not use this information to personally identify individual users.

Refund Policy Statement

We handle all refund requests individually and on a case by case basis to ensure fairness and accuracy. You can initiate your request at the point of sale or by contacting the Business Office during standard business hours. Our team will review the details of your purchase or payment to determine eligibility based on our current policies.
